THE ILF OFFERS :

EXCELLENCE IN EDUCATION

The Institute for Law and Finance (ILF) is a center for academic excellence in teaching and research in the fields of law and finance. It was established in 2002 as a foundation of Goethe University Frankfurt am Main with the support of many leading commercial banks, international law firms, consulting and accounting firms as well as central banks and regulatory authorities such as the German Central Bank (Deutsche Bundesbank), the German Federal Financial Supervisory Authority (BaFin) and the European Central Bank.

With the recent developments taking place in the banking and financial markets as well as new requirements for financial regulation being implemented, there is real need for professionals to be trained in these specialized areas of legal practice. Frankfurt am Main is the most international city in Germany and the largest financial center on continental Europe. There is an abundance to discover in this historical city of Goethe with its cultural offers.

Almost one-third of the people living in Frankfurt do not hold a German passport. This means that wherever visitors come from, they will always meet people in Frankfurt who speak their language and a restaurant that serves their favorite food. The open and hospitable atmosphere in Frankfurt stems from its centuries-old role as a trading center.

W H Y S T U D Y

Since the Middle Ages, the city of Frankfurt has been a major trade and financial center at the crossroads of Europe's trade routes. Today, as the leading financial marketplace in continental Europe, Frankfurt is the seat of the European Central Bank and international banks such as Deutsche Bank and Commerzbank.

Many major foreign banks are also represented in Frankfurt. Thus, Frankfurt is at the center of European monetary policy and the European Economic and Monetary Union. Major public banking institutions, including the Deutsche Bundesbank and KfW Bankengruppe, one of the EU's leading public credit institutions, are based in Frankfurt. One of the world's largest stock exchanges, Deutsche Börse which also houses the world's largest and most modern, all-electronic derivatives exchange, Eurex, is also located here.

WHO CAN APPLY?

Graduates holding a first degree in law, business or economics from Asia and who have good academic records are eligible to apply to join our LL.M. International Finance program.

Since English is the sole language of instruction, applicants must have a good command of written and spoken English. Class size is kept small to ensure academic excellence and direct, personal contact between students and the faculty.

DURATION OF THE PROGRAM

The LL.M. International Finance program at the ILF is a one-year postgraduate degree program. It is divided into two semesters, namely the winter semester (October to February) and the summer semester (April to July). The program commences in October and ends in July of the following year.

CONFERMENT OF DEGREE AND ACCREDITATION

The LL.M. International Finance Degree is conferred by the Faculty of Law of Goethe University Frankfurt am Main. In summer 2021, the ILF and the LL.M. International Finance degree program were re-accredited until 2029 by the Accreditation Commission of Goethe University. This award of an 8-year re-accreditation period builds on our extensive experience in education and training in the fields of law and finance relevant for Master's programs.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

After graduating from the ILF, if you wish to stay and look for work in Germany, you can apply to extend your existing residence permit for up to 18 months (and work unrestricted). Such job seeker visas are granted as long as foreign students have evidence of receiving a degree from a German university, have health insurance and can support themselves financially during the period of stay.

ILF ALUMNUS, CLASS OF 2015

“Studying at the ILF helped me a lot as many courses were taught by experienced lawyers which means that the course contents were all very practical. On the other hand, the extra-curricular activities enriched the program by allowing us to visit European governmental institutions as well as major and well-known law firms and banks. These extra-curricular visits really broadened my horizon.

In addition, ILF students had lots of opportunities to attend various conferences. I also appreciated the spectacular diversity offered at the ILF by experiencing the internationality of the program as well as the ambience of Frankfurt city, which has a perfect mix of modern and classic features.”

Antonius Herri Setianto
University of Indonesia, Indonesia

ILF ALUMNUS, CLASS OF 2017

“I was impressed at the beginning of the academic year, where the ILF arranged introductory courses for the whole class. I personally gained a lot from these helpful introductory courses, especially for me who comes from a non-European country (Indonesia). As a student of the LL.M. International Finance program, my classmates and I must participate in the mandatory courses specifically tailored for Asian students. However, this should not be seen as a limitation because the ILF allows the Asian students to fully participate in and audit any other non-conflicting courses (though no credit points will be awarded for such audited courses).

One thing for sure is that as most of the ILF lecturers are professors or practitioners from reputable law firms or authorities (like the ECB and BaFin), students will not only receive text-book based lectures, but the lecturers are willing to share their valuable lifetime experiences, the Dos and Don'ts as well as relevant problem solving strategies from actual cases and precedents. Indeed, it really feels like I am increasing the knowledge in my brain, yet the finish line is still a long journey ahead. I strongly believe that my whole experience gained at the ILF would open doors for me that may otherwise not be achievable.”

ILF ALUMNA, CLASS OF 2018

“The ILF is located in an international financial center with great potentials and opportunities. We learned from distinguished German lawyers and professors who are specialized in corporate finance, banking, capital markets and M&A issues and gain not only theoretical but also practical knowledge and they combine our interests of law and finance.

Here we meet our peers from all over the world with diversified backgrounds, study together and share different cultures. Joining the LL.M. International Finance program was one of the best choices I have ever made. It provided me with exciting challenges, improvements, and a solid foundation to pursue my future career path. I would never forget my marvelous time here.”

Menghao Fu
Tongji University, China

ILF ALUMNUS, CLASS OF 2016

“The ILF provided us with the unique combination of law and finance courses, plus an exciting living experience in the heart of Germany. We learned from the most experienced partners from the best law firms, German financial supervisory authorities, and officials from German national banks.

Nowhere else would we be lucky enough to have law firm partners with extensive rich experience in the legal ‘battlefield’ or regulators from BaFin who endeavored to hand down to us not only theoretical knowledge but also practical experience, making us think in terms of what a good lawyer would do if a client would come with a problem. The finance components were another highlight.

We have learned much more in the year at the ILF than we did in the four years of undergraduate studies which we have had. This academic achievement is everything that we had looked forward to and the program supports us to smoothly transform from being a student to being a lawyer.”

Ishan Zahoor
Jamia Millia Islamia, India

ILF ALUMNUS, CLASS OF 2019

“We were privileged to have acclaimed academicians teaching us the intricacies of law and finance. On top of that, we were showered with an array of accomplished practitioners from top law firms, giving us an insight into the operation of these laws.

With subjects ranging from Corporate Finance, Acquisition Finance, Economics, M&A, to Capital Markets etc., these have equipped us with great foundational knowledge upon which anything could be built. Topics ranging from securitization to structural subordination to recharacterisation to the relevance of capital structure and even valuation of a firm have all been explicated and comprehended well, in the two short demanding semesters. The simple fact of having smaller classes with Socratic Method of discourses has been a major impetus to my new found cognitive narrative.

This coupled with an opportunity to intern at a top law firm is an unsurpassable experience. As may be expected, there is no dearth of conferences in the House of Finance hosted by the ILF, which not only paves another way to supplement your knowledge but provides you with great opportunity to interact with potential employers. I was particularly interested in this interface of law with finance which has been so brilliantly structured at the ILF that I undoubtedly feel I have been armed with an arsenal ready to take over the financial/legal world.

Without doubt, there is not any other LL.M. in Banking, Finance and Securities Law which can come close to the one at the ILF. I can very well vouch on behalf of my classmates that this has been an experience of a lifetime which will keep us all well equipped to take on any challenge we face in our respective careers.”

TESTIMONIALS

Qingqing Li
Shanghai Fudan University, China
ILF ALUMNA, CLASS OF 2020

“The ILF program was probably one of the best choices I’ve ever made, not only because of the practical knowledge I gained from the program, but also because it opened up new opportunities for me to further my studies and life in Europe.

The program provided legal courses on corporate finance, investment banking, capital markets, mergers and acquisitions, etc., which brought us close to the practice of financial law, and also opened up our interdisciplinary perspectives through business-related courses such as fundamentals of finance, global economic environment and financial markets. During my internship and visits to top law firms in Frankfurt organized by ILF, I learned more about the practice of legal services related to M&A and financing, and I have a clearer idea of my future career direction.”

Thi Minh Ngoc Nguyen
Ho Chi Minh City University of Laws, Vietnam
ILF ALUMNA, CLASS OF 2020

“The LL.M International Finance program exceeded my expectations in many different aspects. The courses provided solid knowledge of law and finance essential for every lawyer. They were also cross-disciplinary, practice-oriented and lectured by professors who were experts and market leader lawyers. I could never have learned as much from any book or law school.

Having a legal background, I mostly enjoyed lectures in M&A, acquisition and project finance, from which I familiarized myself with deal structures and the entire process of a transaction. This is what lawyers actually do. Additionally, the intercultural and communication courses as well as interaction with other students in classes were extremely valuable for me, and have enhanced my adaptability to the international environment.

After the program, I am not only determined to pursue these practice areas in my profession, but I am also inspired to do continuous learning.”

Chen Duan
Peking University, China
ILF ALUMNUS, CLASS OF 2021

“With a faculty of professors and partners from top-tiered law firms and a well-designed curriculum, the LL.M. International Finance program fits extremely well with both academic and professional pursuits in banking, capital markets, corporate transactions and other major investment and finance projects.

Law students who have some relevant experience by way of internships or young professionals in these areas, in particular, can find this program a driving force for career advancement. While exams are moderately difficult, it is the thinking, reading and group work with competent colleagues that produce profound effects in the long run.

In addition, extra-curricular activities such as seminars and excursions benefit students by giving them opportunities to get to know the legal community and up-to-date legal issues.”

Anudari Ganbaatar
National University of Mongolia, Mongolia
ILF ALUMNA, CLASS OF 2021

“A fantastic program and highly recommended!

It was a very challenging, yet exciting journey year with the ILF. I came from a very far country to Germany to obtain the highest standard of education offered by the ILF in order to pursue my dream to further my academic studies as well as my personal skills. I have always dreamt of a career in banking and financial law which led me to Frankfurt. During the one year at the ILF as a full-time student, I acquired not only a strong understanding of legal and financial theories and concepts, I have also found my lifetime friends.

Eventhough it was an especially burdensome year due to the pandemic, this program was extraordinary with a very diverse group of people, excellent professors, and impressive staff. I would like to take this opportunity to thank the ILF for the quality service during these challenging times.”

PRACTICAL INFORMATION

HEALTH INSURANCE

All students are required to prove that they have adequate health insurance under German law before they can be matriculated as students of Goethe University Frankfurt am Main. They are required to take out a German health insurance for the duration of their studies.

This applies regardless of any private health insurance policy the student may hold in his or her home country. Students under 30 years of age can be insured with a German public insurance company while students above 30 years old must be privately insured. The costs for students under 30 years of age are currently about 80 EUR per month.

VISA/APS REQUIREMENTS

Students should apply for visas once they have accepted a place in the program. Upon such acceptance, an official letter of admission from the Dean of Goethe University's Law Faculty will be sent out. This letter of admission is necessary for you to apply for a student visa at the German embassies situated in your respective countries. Students are responsible for arranging their own visas.

The ILF is happy to provide assistance should the embassy require further information regarding student status or the planned course of study.

Students from the People's Republic of China, Mongolia and Vietnam must acquire APS (Akademische Prüfstelle) certificates before they can obtain student visas to study in Germany. As APS certificates may take up to at least 3 months to be issued by the relevant authority, applications should be made early.

GERMAN LANGUAGE COURSE

During the semesters, a specially-organized optional basic German language course will be held, giving our students the opportunity to learn the language of the country where they stay during their studies.

LIVING COSTS

Overall personal living expenses vary depending on the cost of accommodation and other personal choices. An estimate of about 1,000 EUR per month for general living expenses is a realistic calculation for the Frankfurt area.

ILF students will receive a student card from Goethe University which entitles them to use the facilities of the university, which include the university's refectories and cafeterias, where students can eat at reduced prices. Students have direct access to the facilities on Campus Westend where the ILF is located.

The student card includes a free pass to public transportation in the Frankfurt area and certain regional trains.

ACCOMMODATION

There are several accommodation options available to students in the Frankfurt area. A limited number of dormitory rooms are offered by the university's student services. However, since the demand for these rooms is usually greater than the number of rooms available, they are often quickly booked out.

Other options include student housing facilities offered by various church organizations and other non-profit housing facilities. We strongly recommend that students contact such organizations as soon as they receive notice of acceptance to the program, as these rooms are also very sought after.

The ILF is able to provide a list of these organizations and further information to help you find private accommodation in Frankfurt.

Regular series of conferences and guest lectures on topical issues related to international business and the financial markets are delivered at the ILF by leading academics and practitioners from all over the world.

Many of these conferences and lectures are open to the public and are regularly attended by ILF students and academics as well as legal and finance professionals. These conferences and lectures are announced on the ILF website at www.ilf-frankfurt.de.
